

Press Release

New Leadership at Motivair

On 1st December, Iain Beadle joined Motivair as CEO. Iain has an extensive background in building and growing B2B industrial service organisations, including the last 5 years as a Managing Director at Synectics plc.

Iain brings experience in the implementation and delivery of large scale Technology Engineering led projects, emergency service and PPM based contracts and the efficient deployment of rapid response engineering, all of which represent the core product offering at Motivair Compressors.

Iain commented "I am delighted to have the opportunity to lead Motivair through its next stage of development. Motivair's market and customer value proposition are extremely strong and I look forward to meeting some of our customers and suppliers over the next few months."
