

Are you confident you're maximising productivity and minimising costs? Gain valuable insight and improved visibility of your business operations through our Agility Health Check.

Forward-thinking companies are continually analysing their business efficiency – are you?

You've implemented a system and it's working great, but for one reason or another, you know there are areas that could be running more efficiently. Your system isn't broken – but the way you use it might be.

You simply can't work efficiently if your system doesn't either – which is why we're pleased to introduce the Agility Health Check, providing you with expert advice and tangible feedback so you can make intelligent decisions and improve the way your business operates.

What is an Agility Health Check?

The purpose of an Agility Health Check is to audit and benchmark how your current system is being used to ensure you achieve maximum benefit and tangible savings. Using a thorough quality audit, we take a close look at how well your current system and processes are satisfying your goals, targets, and KPIs.

In fact, many of our customers are already seeing the benefits of working with efficient systems*:

- 2,000 hours of indirect labour per year saved
- 60% reduction in paperwork and administration
- 53% improvement in maintenance response times
- 200% increase in logged maintenance requests and actions

You do not need to have Agility already to receive benefits of the Health Check – you may already have an existing system in place. With this in mind, the Check will also provide you with suggested improvements, as well as identifying best practice operational advice.

What does “healthy” look like?

We understand that you may have unique goals you aim to achieve, so it's important that these also meet standard benchmark targets. We are in a unique position to offer invaluable benchmarking insight through our 34 years of successful software implementation.

“Agility has been invaluable to us as an organisation by gathering and reporting key business intelligence and steering us towards pursuing the most appropriate type of contracts.”

– Catalin Lordache, Managing Director, GBM Electrical Contractors
