

Humidity Solutions have announced the launch of humiditydirect.co.uk - a new e-commerce site for the sale of humidification and dehumidification equipment and spares.

The advantage of humiditydirect.co.uk is that orders can be made at any time of the day, seven days a week. Customers can immediately see if their parts are in stock and delivery is free. Account set up is quick and easy, and order management means that all orders can be tracked, and repeat orders can be made at the click of a button.

John Barker, Managing Director at Humidity Solutions commented: 'The launch of humiditydirect.co.uk allows us to provide a quick and easy round-the-clock service, giving our customers an alternative and convenient way to place orders, with the added advantage of free delivery. John added 'Naturally, our sales and customer service team will be on hand during office hours to answer any questions. humiditydirect.co.uk is the UK's first commercial dedicated humidity control e-commerce site and we are delighted to launch it as an additional service for our customers.

John added "humiditydirect.co.uk was always in our business plan for this quarter, however, it appears to be even more appropriate in the current climate to provide further convenience for our customers who are increasingly working from home."
