LOCTITE® CONFIRMS WEBINAR DATES

Benefit from second-to-none, expert guidance on industrial bonding and sealing without moving a muscle! The new LOCTITE® Success Secured webinar series brings LOCTITE® product specialists into your workplace via the internet during June, July and September 2015. The three subjects covered are: Why adhesives? – optimise the manufacturing process; Instant adhesives – hybrid technology provides strength and speed; Machinery adhesives – ensure high performance and reliability.

The Henkel webinars provide industry with the opportunity to tap into nearly a century's worth of experience in the use of adhesives for structural bonding, instant bonding and machine construction and maintenance. Respectively, the speakers have had careers with Henkel that span more than 30 years. As a result, webinar delegates will have a wealth of knowledge at their disposal during the sessions from these technical experts. All seminar participants will also receive a series of technical white papers to extend their working knowledge of adhesives.
